Who may file

If you receive an annuity or pension payment that must be included in your New York adjusted gross income, you may file this form to have New York State income tax (and, if a New York City or Yonkers resident, that city's personal income tax) withheld from each payment. However, the annuity or pension must be payable over a period longer than one year.

Where and how to file

File this form with the payer of your annuity or pension. Enter on the front the whole dollar amount(s) that you want withheld from each annuity or pension payment. However, each amount must be at least $5 per month and should not reduce the annuity or pension payment you receive to less than $10. Quarterly payments of estimated income tax may be made in addition to or instead of withholding; see Form IT-2105-1, Instructions for Form IT-2105, for more information.

If you need help completing this form, call (518) 457-5181.

Duration of withholding request

Your request for voluntary withholding will remain in effect until you terminate it.

How to terminate a withholding request

You may terminate your request for voluntary withholding by giving your payer a written termination notice.

Instructions

Statement of income tax withheld

After the end of the year, your payer will give you federal Form 1099-R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc., showing the gross amount of annuity or pension payments and the total amount deducted and withheld as tax during the calendar year.

Payer

Keep this certificate with your records.

See the instructions for Form NYS-1, Return of Tax Withheld, and Form NYS-45, Quarterly Combined Withholding, Wage Reporting, and Unemployment Insurance Return, for payment and reporting requirements for New York State, New York City, and Yonkers personal income taxes that you withheld from annuity or pension payments.
